

SPECIAL PRODUCT PREVIEW!

Electronica music? Vertigo graphics? Folders and pens? Cartoons have come a long way since a hefty side of ribs toppled Fred Flintstone's car — and riding the edgy, fast and often loud cartoon revolution is The Powerpuff Girls, a blend of whimsical girlishness, crime-fighting and graphic design, dedicated to saving the world before bedtime. (Which is, given the abundance of nighttime crimes on the show, pretty loosely enforced.) But the Powerpuff revolution hasn't stopped with a TV program. There's goodies, too. The superhero supergroup have unleashed a whole line of Powerpuff stuff, from keychains to clothing, on kids nestled somewhere in between diapers and driver's permits. Products you'll find in this section can be purchased at your local retailer.

The size proportions of the Girls' heads may prevent them from ever wearing hats like these, but they're great sunblockers for the rest of us.
Suggested retail: $12

Don't head out to the Little Toyko Townsville beach without the proper swimwear – a Powerpuff pink bikini! This retro two-piece is the trio's summer gear.
Suggested retail: $24-$29.99

It's Powerpuff pants! Tights and dresses are nice, but even the most stylish crime-fighter needs a good pair of jeans. They'll knock your knee socks off.
Suggested retail: $24.99-$31.99

Whether you're swimming through the ocean or in a sea of Chemical X, you'll be well suited in this dark blue one-piece bathing suit. Suggested retail: $24-$29.99
